Great Benevolences.

In the large cities of the United States the ondition of the metropolitan poor is constantly being ameliorated by the grand benevolences of wealthy people. Sanitary reforms are frequently suggested and carried out with earnestness and intelligence. Among sanitary reforms those produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in dyspeptic stomach, disordered liver, bowels or nervous system are very conspicuous.

Spring Medicine

A Good Blood Purifier a Necessity Now

Hood's Sarsaparilla Unequalled

for Making Rich, Red Blood The necessity for taking a good Spring Medicine to purify the blood and build up the system is based upon natural and unavoidable causes. In cold weather there has been less perspiration and impurities have not passed out of the system as they should. Food has consisted largely of rich, fatty substances, and there has been less opportunity for outdoor exercise. The result is, the blood is loaded with impurities and these must be promptly expelled or health will be endangered. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best Spring Medicine because it is the best blood purifier and tonic. It thoroughly purifies the blood and gives vigor and vitality.

An odd piece of jewelry has been made by a Texas jeweler and electrician. It is a scarfpin in the form of a tiny electric motor, which, though weighing only one pennyweight and three grains, is complete in every payticular, and can be operated when supplied with a current. Gold takes the f copper through hout, and withstanding the minute size of this little motor, it runs at a lively rate and creates quite a hum when supplied with current from a small silver-chloride battery carried in the vest pocket.

NO WOMAN IS EXEMPT.

Regularity is a matter of importance in every woman's life. Much pain is, however, endured in the belief that it is necessary and not alarming, when in truth it is all wrong and indicates derangement that may cause serious trouble.

Excessive monthly pain itself will unsettle the nerves and make women old before their time. The foundation of woman's health is a perfectly normal and regular performance of nature's function. The statement we print from Miss GER-TRUDE SIKES, of Eldred, Pa., is echoed in every city, town and hamlet in this country. Read what she says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-I feel like a new person since following your advice, and think it is my duty to let the public know the good your remedies have done me. My troubles were painful menstruation and leucorrhœa. I was nervous and had spells of being confused. Before using your remedies I never had any faith in patent medicines. I now wish to say that I never had anything do me so much good for painful menstruation as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; also would say that your Sanative Wash has cured me of leucorrhœa. I hope these few words may help suffering women."

The present Mrs. Pinkham's experience in treating female ills is unparalleled, for years she worked side by side with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, and for sometime past has had sole charge of the correspondence department of her great business, treating by letter as many as a hundred thousand ailing women during a single year. All suffering women are invited to write freely to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice about their health.

VIGOROUS SPEECHES MADE BY MEMBERS OF UPPER HOUSE

FAVORING IMMEDIATE HOSTILITIES.

Declaration Fearless and Emphatic That United States Should Free Cuba With Bayonets.

In the senate, Tuesday, vigorous speeches were made by a half dozen prominent senators favoring Cuban independence, and war if necessary to bring it about.

A strong utterance by Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, in a carefully prepared statement of his position on the Cuban crisis, was the climax of an extended discussion of the subject, participated in by several members. Mr. Chandler said: "The United States ought immediately to declare war against Spain and to maintain that war until the people of Cuba are made free from Spanish starvation and cruelty and the government of the island firmly established as an independent republic.

Speeches were delivered by Mr. Tur-ner, of Washington; Mr. Harris, of Kansas, and Mr. Kenney, of Delaware, all of whom took strong ground for vigorous and instant action by the United States.

A resolution offered by Mr. Turner, of Washington, declaring war against Spain was laid before the senate and its author took the floor in advocacy of it. The speech was brief, but was given the most careful attention by both the galleries and the senate.

"The fate of Spain, peace or war," he began, "belongs in its last analysis to the congress of the United States.

Believing this, I have no apology for the resolution I have offered. have the highest respect for the president and his office, but I have never been one "to bend the knee that thrift might follow fawning." The time has now arrived when some expression ought to be made of the United States in the whole matter. "With a diplomatic representative at Madrid," declared Mr. Turner, "complicating the business of this country and defeating even his own frantic efforts for peace at any price; with a private secretary —the alter ego of the president—cir-culating appeals throughout the country for petitions and memorials to control an unruly and unpatriotic congress; with the manner in which the fate of our battleship was treated by this country; with these frantic appeals for delay, it is not surprising that the American people are outraged and have given notice that they propose to take the whole matter into their own heads."

Discussing the Maine disaster, upon which Mr. Turner practically based his speech, he declared that no reasonable man could fail to realize that the battleship was destroyed through the cowardice and perfidy of Spanish officials, who by their action made their government responsible for the crime.

From the time of Alva down to the time of Weyler, Mr. Turner declared, the record of Spain had been one of murder and assassination, brutality and cruelty, rapine and arson.

The Spaniard of 1500 and the Spaniard of 1900 are one and the same individual. It had remained for the Maine disaster to demonstrate that civilization had passed the Spaniards by, and that now they were as ferocious, brutal, cunning and treacherous as they ever were. This government should act at once.

Mr. Turner was in favor of a declaration of war, but expressed himself in readiness to drive the Spaniards from the western hemisphere, and he expressed the hope that as a senator of the United States he would very soon have the opportunity to cast his vote for the measure that would accomplish that result.

Women and the Wheel.

From the Gazette, Delaware, Ohio.
The healthfulness of bicycle riding for women is still a disputed question between winent physicians and health reformers.
Used in moderation it surely creates for women a means of out-door exercise, the benefit of which all physicians concede. Used to excess, like any other pastime, its effect is likely to be dangerous.

The experience of Miss Bertha Reed, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. J. R. Reed, 335 Lake St., Delaware, Chio, may point a moral for parents who, like Mr. and Mrs. Reed, have experienced aome concern for their daughters who are fond of wheeling. In the fall of '96 Miss Bertha who had ridden a great deal, began to fall in an alarming manner. She grew steadily paler and thinner, and it appeared she was going into consumption. Rest and quiet did her absolutely no good. A physician found her pulse at 104—a of affairs they were recommended by an old friend to get some of that famous blood

The Baronet and the Beggar.

In the East Riding of Yorkshire the name of Sir Tatton Sykes is a household word. A good story is told of the present baronet's father, who died at the age of 93, which exemplifies his characteristic Yorkshire cuteness, Sitting one day on a fence near Sledmere, Sir Tatton was accosted by a tramp, who mistook him for a farmer—as well he might, the old gentleman affecting the dress of the yeoman. "Nay, my lad," he replied, "I can gie ye nought. But dost see you house? Sir Tatton Sykes lives there, and he'll gie ye summat." The man trudged off up the road, and the Baronet slipped back to the hall by a path, and gave the butler instruction to let the tramp have a good meal, and handed him a sovereign to give to his strange guest, Half an hour later the tramp, returning again, saw the old farmer still seated on the fence. "Well, my lad," said the latter, "how did ye get on?" "Oh, thank you; I got a splendid dinner, and the ale was the best I ever tasted." "Did ye get nought else?" was the remark of 'the astonished farmer. "Here, come along back with me." Letting himself and his companion in by a side entrance, Sir Tatton rang for the butler, who turned ashy at the unexpected sight which met his gaze. Looking sternly at him for a minute or two. Sir Tatton said: "There's no occasion for me to make your mouth call your face a liar. You've been with me a long time, so I'll let you off light. Give this man £2 and send £50 to the York Hospital, or pack your traps up and go."-St. James's Gazette.

Circulation of the Blood

The mileage of the blood circulation reveals some astonishing facts in our personal history. Thus it has been calculated that, assuming the heart to beat sixty-nine times a minute at ordinary heart pressure, the blood goes at the rate of 207 yards in the minute, or seven miles per hour, 168 miles per day and 61,326 miles per year. If a man 84 years of age could have one single blood corpuscle floating in his blood all his life, it would have traveled in that same time 5,150,880 miles.

Pooled the Detective

A detective in a well known retall store is engaged in the mental process of kicking himself whenever he thinks a certain transaction which took place last week. At a time of day when the store was crowded the detective, who was keeping a sharp lookout for evildoers, was approached by a welldressed, intelligent looking man, who informed him that he was employed as detective in another store and had followed a shoplifter from his firm's store to the present place, where they would find her at the glove counter stealing gloves. "Let her alone," said the strange detective, "and when she loads ap I will follow her home and we can then make a big haul." Consent was given to this plan and the shoplifter stole two or three hundred dollars' worth of goods unmolested. Then she went out followed by the strange detective. That was the last seen of the pair, and the detective wonders how on earth he was duped so easily .-Philadelphia Record.

CAN BE CURED.

I Feel in Fancy As if Awakened From an Uneasy Dream in My Relief the Superhuman Power of Morphine."

DR. B. M. WOOLLEY,

Atlanta, Ga.: Dear Sir—I feel myself wholly inadequate to the task I am undertaking, and yet, in one respect, I may perhaps claim to be qualified. To express my appreciation and gratitude to God and yourself as His almost superhuman agents, for my complete restoration to real life, and I fondly hope a future useful manhood, is a task of which I am totally incompetent. But to speak of my emotions, when I recognize of a truth that I have been emancipated from the bondage of a tyrant, more cruel and relentless than ever swayed scepter over a help-less people, I may find words to feebly ex-press. I do not wish to indicate that I have a mind of commanding powers, yet I hope it may exhibit at least a heart of deepest gratitude. Fifteen years ago I was the victim of se-gratitude.

Fifteen years ago I was the victim of severe acute rheumatism; my suffering was intense and almost unbearable. Three noted physicians in succession failed in their honest endeavors to give me relief. The fourth, my favorite, who was indisposed himself, when I was first attacked, finally came to my bedside. He, in his anxiety and sympathy to luil the pain and induce sleep, thought best to give me at intervals a small quantity of morphine. Ignorant of its wonderful power, I continued its use for several days, and then it was that I awoke to the sad realization that I was bound in chains which no human power or will could break asunder. Since the fatal hour I became an involuntary and unconscious victim of that fascinating and yet most potent drug, as the greatest enemy and destroyer of human hope and ambition, mine has been a weary pilgrimage in the dark, ever dying, yet could not die. Many times during the passing of those fifteen long and dreary years, and especially since the death of one of the best women that ever wore the sacred crown of wife, I was tempted to snap asunder the silver cord of life and leap to meet the nameless terrors of the great unknown. And if perchance I had committed the awful deed the world would have cried out "insane," whereas nothing else could have been less true.
